

Work Experience II

Summary: This document contains the information regarding your second professional experience in a company during your 4² curriculum.

Version: 3.1

Contents

I	Overview	2
II	Legality questions	3
III	Educational Purpose	4
IV	Business Relations Team	6

Chapter I

Overview

One of the school's core goals is successful professional integration. While the curriculum is designed to simulate real-world professional conditions, nothing can replace actual work experience within a company.

This second professional experience takes place during the latter half of your curriculum.

It must meet the following requirements:

- It must last 6 months on a full-time basis.
- Since your curriculum progression is entirely individual due to its self-paced nature, the exact timing of your work experience will be defined on a case-by-case basis.
- Ideally, this period should coincide with the time when "Piscines" are organized at your campus, in order to free up space for incoming students.

In this document, "work experience" refers to any such professional period, it may be a fixed-term contract, an open-ended contract, an internship agreement or any other legal contract available.

There are two evaluations your company supervisor (referent) will complete during your work experience:

- A mid-term evaluation, sent halfway through your contract period.
- A final evaluation, sent one week before the end of your contract. If you've signed an open-ended contract, this will be sent based on the end date you've indicated on the intranet. Be sure to provide an accurate end date that allows the evaluation to be completed; typically, 6 months is recommended.

This final evaluation will allow you to register for the peer video project.

Chapter II

Legality questions

For legal reasons, you are not allowed to begin working before your contract is signed and uploaded to the intranet.

The consequences may vary by country, but working without a signed contract may leave you without legal protections or insurance. When in doubt, speak with your campus staff first.

Depending on the legislation in your country, certain types of contracts may require signatures from you, the company, and a representative from 42; this is called a tripartite agreement.

In all cases, and for all types of contracts, they must be signed by all parties involved. Any modification to the contract must also be approved and signed by all parties.

For this second professional experience, the following types of contracts are permitted: fixed-term, open-ended, or internship agreement. In all cases, your position must be full-time.

On-site work is strongly recommended, as it includes important aspects such as team interaction and integration. However, companies may have internal policies regarding remote work for all employees. We advise you to check and comply with those rules.

While remote work can be accepted as part of an internship, please note that the campus staff may veto the validation of the project if they consider that the amount of remote work involved is excessive or inappropriate. The final approval remains at the discretion of the local pedagogical staff.

Chapter III

Educational Purpose

This work experience is an opportunity to test your skills in a real-world environment. It enhances your development in several areas of the curriculum; technical, organizational, interpersonal; while also helping you better understand how businesses operate, the challenges they face, and their internal processes.

It is also a valuable experience for those with little or no professional background, helping to build a more complete CV and ease the transition into the job market at the end of your cursus.

To be eligible, you must:

- Have successfully completed the Common Core part of the curriculum.
- Not be registered in the Startup Experience or Part-Time paths.
- Have successfully completed Work Experience I.

This project is not retroactive. We do not issue internship agreements or validate any other type of contract for learners who do not meet the required conditions - even if a company is willing to hire them.

Because this experience is part of your academic journey, it includes an evaluation process. Your supervisor will complete a mid-term and a final evaluation. Additionally, peer review is based on a recorded presentation uploaded to a public video-sharing platform (e.g., YouTube, Dailymotion):

- You must submit a 4–5 minute video presentation of your work experience.
- The video must include slides created using a tool of your choice (PowerPoint, Keynote, Prezi, etc.).
- Your image (at least upper body, ideally full body) must appear in the video. An introduction and conclusion where you appear alone is acceptable.
- The presentation must be as professional as if it were being shown to a corporate board of directors.

- The video link should be added in a file named video inside your submission repository.

The content should follow these guidelines:

- Imagine a new board member with no prior company knowledge. Explain the company's overall context, specific challenges, and the work and results of your project(s).
- The board is evaluating you for potential promotion. Demonstrate your personal involvement, technical and managerial skills (if applicable), and overall impact.

Chapter IV

Business Relations Team

The Business Relations team serves as the link between learners and companies.

They support learners in their search for work experience opportunities. This includes:

- Partner outreach to encourage job offer postings.
- Organizing conferences and workshops (CV writing, interview techniques, etc.).
- Hosting meetups and events that connect learners with companies.

Regardless of the type of contract (internship agreement, fixed-term, open-ended, etc.), you must complete the company form on the intranet and upload your signed contract. This ensures proper monitoring of learners in training.

The Business Relations team also serves as your point of contact during your work experience. If you have any questions, problems, or uncertainties, reach out to them. They can offer guidance or intervene if necessary.

Respect and professionalism must go both ways: the company is responsible for your working conditions, while you are expected to demonstrate good behavior, punctuality, and professionalism.

A signed contract is a legal commitment. You cannot leave a work experience simply because you dislike it; only contract violations justify termination.

All of these elements will be considered in the final validation of your work experience.